RESCUE Intellitech UK Ltd. Launches New Subscription Model, Decon as a Service, To Enhance Firefighter Safety

With the new subscription model, Decon as a Service, fire departments can now access RESCUE Intellitech's cutting-edge equipment and accelerate their cancer preventive work by reducing exposure to carcinogens, without the need for any upfront investment.

MALMÖ, Sweden, September 14, 2023 – RESCUE Intellitech, a leading provider of innovative solutions for the firefighting and rescue services industry, is thrilled to introduce its new subscription model – Decon as a Service – along with the launch of its British subsidiary. The launch will be kicked off with RESCUE Intellitech's participation at the Emergency Services Show in Birmingham where you will be able to meet with the team and learn more about RESCUE Intellitech's groundbreaking product line for enhanced decontamination of firefighter personal protective equipment (PPE).

Firefighters face numerous challenges in their line of duty, including dangerous exposure to cancer-causing agents. RESCUE Intellitech's innovative washing equipment is designed to mitigate this risk, and now, with the Decon as a Service subscription model, RESCUE Intellitech is making it even easier for fire departments to prioritize the safety and well-being of their personnel.

The main benefits of RESCUE Intellitech's innovative washing equipment include:

1. Reduced Exposure: By effectively removing harmful PAH compounds and other contaminants from firefighting gear, RESCUE Intellitech's equipment plays a vital role in reducing the risk of cancer among firefighters.
2. Efficiency: The equipment is remarkably easy to use, taking only a couple of minutes to ensure thorough decontamination.

The introduction of the Decon as a Service subscription model further enhances the accessibility of this essential equipment:

- Long-term engagement: With Decon as a Service the customer can feel secure in the fact that RESCUE Intellitech take full responsibility for the smooth functioning of daily operations over time.
- All-Inclusive: The monthly subscription fee provides complete coverage, guaranteeing that fire departments enjoy a hassle-free experience while affording them the essential flexibility to optimize their resource management.

- No Upfront Costs: Fire departments can now access RESCUE Intellitech's cutting-edge equipment without the need for any upfront investment, making it an accessible solution for departments of all sizes.
- Flexibility: If a fire department's requirements evolve over time, Decon as a Service offers the flexibility to make necessary adjustments. Furthermore, upon the completion of the initial contract period, customers have the freedom to make choices regarding the service with minimal notice, ensuring flexibility and independence.

This announcement marks a significant moment for RESCUE Intellitech as they simultaneously launch their British subsidiary, allowing them to offer their products and services directly to UK customers with the added convenience of a local organisation.

"Our unwavering commitment to firefighter safety has always been at the forefront of our mission. The launch of Decon as a Service and the establishment of our British subsidiary underscore our dedication to delivering accessible and innovative solutions to the firefighting community. This expansion also fosters closer relationships with our customers, allowing us to gain valuable insights into machine performance over time. In our ongoing pursuit of technology and user experience enhancements, it enables us to continuously share our knowledge and provide customers with the latest product versions, bolstering their efforts to enhance firefighter safety," stated Martin Valfridsson, CEO of RESCUE Intellitech.

Join RESCUE Intellitech at the Emergency Services Show in Birmingham, 19th–20th September, to learn more about their groundbreaking innovative washing equipment for the fire industry and the new subscription model, Decon as a Service.
