Beatrice Råvik Janzon Appointed CEO of Rescue Intellitech

Bringing extensive experience in international business development and commercial growth.

MALMÖ, Sweden, August 20, 2026 – Rescue Intellitech AB is pleased to announce the appointment of Beatrice Råvik Janzon as Chief Executive Officer, effective August 10, 2026.

Beatrice joins Rescue Intellitech at a time of continued international growth. She brings more than 20 years of experience in product management, global business development and commercial strategy from global companies including Thule Group, Sony and Sony Ericsson.

Most recently at Thule Group, Beatrice served as the Category Director where she held full strategic and operational responsibility in one of the company's fastest-growing business areas, helping transform it into a major contributor to the company's continued success. Her experience spans strategic leadership, international markets and building strong customer-focused businesses.

"We are delighted to welcome Beatrice as CEO of Rescue Intellitech," said Stefan Persson, President and CEO of Sandberg Development. "She brings a strong combination of strategic vision, commercial expertise, and international experience. We are confident she will lead Rescue Intellitech through its next phase of growth while strengthening its position within the Sandberg Development Group."

"I am privileged to join Rescue Intellitech, a company defined by such a profound and vital purpose," said Beatrice Råvik Janzon. "Protecting the health and safety of those who protect our communities is a mission that truly resonates with me. I look forward to leading this talented team, scaling our global footprint, and delivering next-generation decontamination solutions to firefighters around the world."
